Our Vision for Amnos Church Planting School

The Church of Christ is growing all around the world, except in Europe! Europe's churches have experienced a rapid decline in the last half century. Thousands of churches have been closed down in the UK alone. Europe, once a main force for mission, has now become a mission field!

The best way to make mountains green again when many old trees die is to plant new trees and cultivate them well. There is an urgent need for training in evangelism, church planting, church growth and pastoral work. Amnos Ministries is committed to the re-evangelisation of the UK and Europe by equipping church planters and pastors.

Launched in October 2011, Amnos Church Planting School is an exciting interdenominational initiative which provides students with practical training in evangelism and pastoral work. Our curriculum is designed to promote and carry out regular, continuous and prayerful outreach. In this way we aim to establish a few new congregations or to strengthen existing small churches during the Course. The overall aim is to equip and enable our graduates to plant new healthy churches or revitalise existing churches after the Course.

Will you join us as our friend, student, prayer partner or supporter? Your partnership will make a difference for God's kingdom in this region.

Though separate entities, Trinity Church and the School are in close partnership to advance the gospel in the UK and Europe.

Our Emphasis

- Provide practical evangelism skills and pastoral training
- Plant churches through regular and continuous outreach using small teams
- Motivate and assist our students to plan, pray for and plant churches, and multiply them

Our Advisors

Rev Canon George Kovoov
Chaplain to Her Majesty the Queen;
Former Principal, Trinity College Bristol

Rev Dr Derek Tidball
Former Principal of London School of Theology, and Past President of the Baptist Union of Great Britain

Our Partnership

It is a vital component of our training that we work closely with local churches for outreach and internship

- Our students go out in small teams to share the gospel one day a week.
- We support the local churches with evangelistic manpower if they desire to plant daughter churches, or to make their small congregations grow.
- We partner with cutting-edge ministry leaders of church planting initiatives in different continents to provide our students with knowledge and skills.

"There is an urgent need to plant new young, vibrant biblical communities. While enthusiasm is important, enthusiasm channeled by knowledge and experience is better still; hence, the significance of the work of Amnos under the proven and visionary leadership of Dr Daniel Chae which I warmly support."

Rev Dr Derek Tidball, Former Principal of London School of Theology, and Past President of the Baptist Union of Great Britain
